BONDS FOR HIGHWAYS

Valuable Official Suggestions For Everyone Interested in Good Roads.

(From the Manufacturers Record.) A most practical publication is Builetin No. 156 of the United States department of agriculture, contributd by the office of public roads, being a compilation by Lawrence I. Hewes and James W. "The county highway bond is essentially a municipal bond; that is, a bond issued by a public corporation.

bond issued by a public corporation. Statistics indicate that all invalcipal bonds are regarded as excellent investments, and are frequently used by banks as a second reserve. The amount of highway bonds issued is indicated by comparison with the $79,-741,688 of irrigation and drainage bonds authorized in the interval from 1997 to 1912, inclusive.

"The pregress of the local highway-bond movement is further indicated by the diagram of first issues for the interval 1900-1913. Dates of first is-sues were reported, however, for only 579 counties. First issues for 1912 and 1913 are practically complete.

"During the past three years county, district and township highway and bridge bonds were voted as follows: 1911, $29,200,022; 1912, $32,-022,703; 1913, $30,445,756, making a lows: 1911, $29,200,022; 1912, $32,-022,703; 1913, $50,445,756—making a total of $111,668,481.

"There have also been voted State highway bonds which total $158,590,-000. The grand total of all highway bonds voted and reported to the office of public roads to January 1, 1914, is, therefore, $445,147,073." The bulletin presents diagrams.

half tone illustrations and statistics in illustration of its text dealing with the economic value of the market road, the cost of highway construction and maintenance, the mothods of issuing bonds and the total cost of highways. It dwells upon legal restrictions on bond issues and the need strictions on bond issues and the need for highway engineer, and, discussing the advantage of bond issues, says: "The issuance of highway bonds is essentially a method of capitalizing the resources of a community for the purpose of ferenting improved highpurpose o fcreating improved high-ways. The fundamental advantage of ways. The fundamental advantage of the bond plan is the construction of a good system of roads at once, but there are secondary advantages in building roads in long stretches and the planning of the maintenance of such roads.

"The question is hot merely whether whether public credit.

"Enrobasis has been placed in this ublication on the strictly measurable economic benefits to a community from road improvement. There are many additional economic benfits and very great social benefits which are no treadily measured. Increased school and church attendance is shown in repeated instances to me an immediate consequence of better roads. The general attumbles to business is difficult to evaluate. It is evident, however, that hughess and prodent however, that hus ness and pro-fessional men of all classes are among the first to be benefited. This is especially true of physicians. The cost of upkeep of automobiles, particularly of tires, is becoming yearly a large item, and the road condition is a most sericus factor for the automobil-ist and the users of motor trucks. "It should be understood at the outset that the question of debt itself is relatively less important than the question of sound planning and good management of the loan. The very presence of the improved road system increases the value of the county property, and therefore the resources supporting the loan. It is a well-established business principle that extension of credit within safe limits is necessary for maximum results. The financing of all private enterprices by bond issues has increased very greatly. In 1908 statistics show that during the preceding decade bonds were issued as a method of cap-italizing public and private enter-prises at the rate of $583,000,000."

Meeting an argument which is sometimes advanced the bulletin says: "Ir. planning the highway system or the main market roads, as mentioned slove, it will be found necessary to omit many roads the improvement of which is greatly desired by abutting landowners. The fact that such pro-perty-holders must pay a tax for the bond issue is only an apparent injus-tice, for if the highway system is well benefits of the improvement. As a rule, main market reads reach the are improved, all hand value,

. "The fact that cities and larger towns are frequently taxed for bond assues to build highways outside of their own limits is sometimes made a point of debate in bond elections. It is argued that because a large part of the county wealth is within the argument limit of such edites and cowns, highway bond money should also be used to construct their streets. riouid be made proportionate to the tasessed valuation within the city way their purpose in many cases would be deleated. The primary object of the county highway bond issue is to bind county market roads, and not to improve city streets, although the futures act and that disputes of the courts of such tons of such bonds voted, as ascertained by the client of such tons of such bonds voted, as ascertained by the client of such tons of such bonds voted, as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted, as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as as ascertained by the client of such bonds voted as as as a such the nest features of State and for highways. In Massachusetts the city highways. In Massachusetts the cay of Boston paya possibly 10 per cent of the total State highway fund, but not a mile of State-aid highway has been built within its limits. New a ork city also pays about 60 per cent. the State highway bonds. Some State laws prohibit the expenditure of proceeds of State lighway bords within corporate limits of cities or towns. The improvement of market roads results in improved marketing conditions, which benefit the city. Most cities are essentially dependent upon the surrounding country for their presperity and development. The development of suburban property for residence purposes is also dependent upon highway conis also dependent upon highway con-ditions, and it is becoming evident yearly that whatever makes for an increase in rural population must be encouraged. Since the introduction of motor traffic, country highways have been used to anincreasing extent by motor traffic, country highways have been used to anincreasing extent by city residents. In fact, the cost of maintaining many country highways has been greatly increased by the presence of city-owned motor vehicles. The general advance of facilities for doing country business from town headquarters when roads are improv-ed is no inconsiderable factor in the ed is no inconsiderable factor in the commercial life of a community.

Among the Suspects.

Ben Massey, who was carried to Abbeville jail last Wednesday togeth er with Charlie Logan, self-confessed slayed of Mrs. Scott, and Earl Burton, the negro who lies at his home at Lowndesville speechless from the effects of the bullet sent into his brain by an unknown assailant, claim that on the night Mrs. Scott was attacked they were in Anderson and spent the night here with a negro named Will Davis, a brother-in-law of Burton.

While the funeral of Mrs. Scott was boing held at the grave Thursday afternoon this Earl Burton was shot through the head with a pistol in a patch of woods some 500 yards from his home. The negro was felled by the shot, but later regained his feet and walked to his house unaided. He makes his home with his mother, Reedy Burton. This old negress, it is said, is the one to whose home little Millie Lee Scott fied when she was awakened Tuesday night by the attack upon her grand mother, and the awakened Tuesday night by the at-tack upon her grand-mother, and the one who detained the girl in the house an hour and half before she would consert to go to the house of an uncle of the child and te<sup>44</sup> the news of the attack upon Mrs. Scott.

Pistol Ball in Head. Earl Burton was shot with a pistol, the ball entering the left side of his head and stopping just under the skin nead and stopping just under the skin of the right side of his head. Dr Thomas Kirkpatrick was summoned from Lowndesville to attend the wounded negro, and he has stated that there is no hope of recovery for omit many roads the improvement of which is greatly desired by abutting landowners. The fact that such property-holders must pay a tax for the bond issue is only an apparent injustice, for if the highway system is well there is no nope of recovery for the patient. The wound in the negro's brain has paralyzed his power of speech. When asked if he knew who legal tangle, Harry K. Ugly Rumors Abroad.
As is usual in all cases of this kind.

various ugly rumors are affoat. fact, one can hear almost anything he wants to hear about the murder. Stories are going the rounds that white people are mixed up in the killing of Mrs. Scott, and that the negro, or negroes, who did her to death were paid to do so by negroes. One report went so far as to say that one of the negroes had confessed that white people had paid him $50 to put Mrs. Scott out of the way. So far as evidence bearing out these reports is concerned, the reports are as empty as the idle wind. There are number of people in close touch with the case who believe that the death of Mrs. Scott was the result of a conspiracy, and there are some who be-lieve that all the facts in connection with her death have not yet been un-covered. But so far as there being any evidence in hand so far to bear on these rumors, there is nothing to it.

Theories of Shooting.

Of course, every one has his theory of the shooting of Earl Burton. Some have advanced the theory that Bur-ton was shot by some person who was afraid that the negro might talk and tell something about the murder of Mrs. Scott that would implicate him, the person firing the shot. There are scores of other theories advanced concerning the mysterious affair, but theories are not solving the puzzle and a great many of them are so rediculous as to be almost disgusting.
